New York, Nov. 14.-London was rather heavy in the early part of the day, and col American stocks showed a decline, which, however, was recovered before the closs, finishing firm at at best. The anticipated bew war loan made councils beavy, and the general market was not overcheerful. Northern Facilic was exceedingly strong on buying of a very good character, and rumors reasonably well founded of greater community of ownership among the rall-roads in the Northwest. Although the pub-He buying was not quite so wild as last week, the investment demand for the high-grade railroads was excellent, and commis--houses were free buyers of the Pacifics. Sugar was advanced on the shorts, and a good deal of confidence was shown as to its fividend prospects. Manhattan benefited by place much faith in the stories circulated.

Outside trading was mixed, but the undertone was good, and any reaction brought

General Electric reacted from the highest

The borrowing demand continued to show considerable relative scarcity of stock, especially in Northern Pacific and Burlington. The leaning rates as a rule were below the rate for call money.

The Chinese trouble still drags its slow Ine Chinese trouble still drags its slow length along and lies with a heavy weight in the European market.

The heavy selling of American stocks by London is an evidence of its effect upon public opinion in Europe and, until something more definite is known, it is idle for this market to expect support from London.

Burlington declared its usual dividend of 1½ per cent without affecting the market much either way. Pacific Mail looks like settling back to a price more in consonance with that at which Southern Pacific bought it, and as the stock left to be traded in is merely minority stocks, it may be taken to be considerably less active in future.

The election of three new directors of Atchison has no special significance and does not, as erroneously reported, indicate the entry of any new interest on the board. Manhattan re-elected the old officials.

LOCAL STOCKS AND BONDS. Market Lively, but Dealings Were Comparatively Light. Comparatively Light.

The session of the stock and bond brokers this morning was a lively one, and there was considerable competition displayed at times, but the agreegate dealings, comparatively speaking, were small. There was also a slight undertone of weakness shown in nearly everything except bank and triast stocks, but no very material declines. The interest appeared to be centered in Tractions and bank stocks, pretty nearly everything else receiving scant attention, and a number hot being mentioned at all.

The dealings were not to be called heavy, nowever, though they were fat. The preferrel stock and Transit were in first demand, but showed an undertone of weakness during the day, the 150 shares of the first-named that sold going at $50, compared with $61 and $55,55 bid.

For Transit stock there was a good demand, but sales were lower than on yesterday, when $20.76 and $20.50 was paid, while at the session this morning 250 shares only brought $20.55, at which there were sellers later, and $20 bld. New York Market Gossip.

The following synopsis of the gossip in regard to the leading features of the New York market was received by D. R. Francis, Bro. & Co.:

New York, Nov. 14.—London traded on a large scale, buying fully 25.000 shares more than it sold. The purchases were heaviest in the Pacific steeks, especially Northern Pacific and Union Pacific, Arbitrage brokers were also fairly large buyers of O. & W. and Reading first preferred. The selling was most prominent in Norfolk and Western.

The feature of the trading was the heavy inrestment buying of stocks, like Pennsylvania, long and short time loans could be obtained at 5 per cent in practically unlimited amounts, with 40 per cent industrials as collateral.

Reports were freely circulated in the board today that a proposition was under consideration for the retirement of Northern Pacific preferred stock at par, in accordance with provisions in the reorganization allowing that step to be taken. Cooper, Cramp & Beadleston were heavy buyers of the stock to-day, and H. H. Holling & Co. were also buyers at intervals during the day.

Linseed Oil stocks continued wesk on what & Co. were also buyers at intervals during the day.

Linseed Oil stocks continued wesk on what was believed to be liquidation, but a local pool. An impression prevailed in some quarters that standard Oil interests had forced the break, it norder to accumulate cheap stocks. No action was taken on preferred stock dividend to-day.

National Sugar preferred was traded in on the curb for the first time to-day. The stock started at 1014, and advanced to 1044. This is the company formed to acquire the opposition refineries to the Sugar Trust.

There was no change of importance to note to-day in connection with the local market. Business in a general way was active and on a large scale. There was the usual good demand for money, which was easily satisfied, as funds were more than ample to meet all requirements. Interest rates were firm, but not quotably changed, the ruling rate still being from 5 to 7 per cent for call and time paper, but with a majority of the loans made at 5 to 8 per cent. Both checking and depositing were large and avery good country business was reported by the different institutions.

DIFFERENT IN ST. LOUIS—George W. Cherry, 22 years old, a farmer of Gadsden, Tenn., has come to the conclusion that the Missouri negro is not so easy a proposition as the Tennessee negro, but he had quite an experience in discovering this fact. Cherry came to this city two days ago with a large consignment of yearling "porkers" to sell. He did this and went out to see the sights of a big city. He haupened into Richardson's saloon at No. 125 Market street in the "wee sma" hours yesterday morning. There were a number of negroes, doubtless of the "bad" variety, therein, and Cherry made the assertion that he was going to clean the house of Ethiopians. He started in to do so, but the negroes refused to vacate, and, on the contrary, pounded his face until it was unrecognizable. He is at the City Hospital.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 14.-Count von Berchine, who was pardoned to-day from the Eastern Penitentiary, had the strange expe rieuce of having been sentenced to death in the name of another man. The Count's romance began in Austria few years ago. There he fell in love with a servant in his father's family, named Maria Kerzac. His family would not hear of his marriage with a girl so far below their social station, and the young Count On condition that he would go to the United States, his father gave him some money, but he was determined on taking the girl with him. She wrote a letter to this effect to her sister, Mrs. Kramer, who was living at Olyphant, a short distance from Scranton, and the latter replied that it would be necessary for the Count to have a passport.

She inclosed with her letter a passport

she inclosed with her learning parties of the countryman, Frank well, which had not been taken up at the inmigration office. So Count von Berchine assumed the name of Bezek. Maria's sister had other plans, however. Before the arrival of the young couple she had picked out a husband for Maria in the person of Anton Buschnok, who had offered her $150 for a pretty wife. Maria demurred to this arrangement, telling of her love for the Count and comparing his atistocratic lineage with that of Buschnok.

But finally Maria Kerzac ylelded to her sister's practical arguments and promised to give up the Count. When Von Berchine heard of this he was furious. He sought Maria Kerzac at her sister's house and told her what he had sacrificed in teaving his father's home for her sake, but his pleading was in vain. Maria had made up her mind and told him she would soon be Mrs. Boschnok.

The Count purchased a revoiver, called again for Maria Kerzac, shot her and the girl fell dead. Von Berchine fled, plunging into the Lackawanna River. But he was overtaken in the middle of the river and conveyed to the county prison. He was tried for the murder of Maria Kerzac under the name of Frank Bezek, and under that mame he was convicted and sentenced to death.
